STATE C. OF C. HIGHWAY CHIEFS TO VISIT LAKESIDE

DAM SITE AT SAN VICENTE INSPECTED

Lakeside was visited on Friday last by an imposing group of San Diego city officials headed by City Manager Fred Rhodes and Fred Pyle, hydraulic engineer. From here they went to view the site of the proposed San Vicente dam and also inspected El Capitan dam.

El Capitan, with a 38,000,000,000-gallon capacity, is the largest dam in the San Diego municipal water system. The officials found it 94.3 full.

Included in the party were Mayor P. J. Benbough, City Clerk Fred Sick, Councilmen Albert Flowers, Fred Simpson, Louis Weggenman; Assistant City Attorney H. B. Daniel, Special Water Counsel Phil Swing, Water Commissioner James M. Anderson, Assistant Hydraulic Engineer Paul Beermann, D. M. Hammond, aide to Rhodes in preparing the budget; Rudolph Wueste, impounding system supervisor; Don Short, newspaperman and Ernest Saftig, driver.

N. Y. A WORK PROJECTS BEAUTIFY COUNTY

National Youth Administration projects are sponsored by the City and County of San Diego. The scenes above picture construction projects at Balboa Park, and at Lakeside Park. Upper left, two NYA workers are pouring foundation for a rest room at Lakeside county park; upper right, in Balboa Park NYA workers are re-installing electrical underground conduit and sprinkling system as part of the park rehabilitation program; lower left, shows youths laying tile on another building at Lakeside; lower right, youths at work with cement mixer on same project. All these projects are under the direction of Van France, NYA Supervisor for San Diego and Imperial counties.

WILL STUDY RELOCATION OF ROAD

Members of the southern high way committee, State Chamber of Commerce, are expected to visit Lakeside today, Friday, in the course of a tour they are making over San Diego County roads, according to annoucement in the San Diego Union. With them will be notables from Southern California counties.

Study will be made of the change in the Lakeside-Ramona road of which the new $89,000 concrete bridge will be a part. Special emphasis will be laid on the need for immediate relocation of State roads running through the San Vicente reservoir basin to facilitate progress of work on the proposed dam.

A distinguished group of San Diego city and county officials plan to make the trip. Included will be Supervisors W. T. Hart and John Faddis, County Planning Lorin Deewall, Frank Forward, presidet San Diego Chamber of Commerce; City Councilman Fred Simpson and Tom Hamilton, president S. D. County Highway Development association.

Capture 4 Boys Who Broke Into Stores

Arrest of four boys, one formerly of Lakeside, reveals, says Sheriff E. W. Dort, that they pulled four burglaries here in Lakeside and El Cajon, 14 in San Diego, and stole four cars. They were placed in a detention home but two of them escaped on Sunday, stole another car and burglarized a store in Pacific Beach. Later they broke into three stores in Ramona obtaining about $80. They were caught at Yuma. Sheriff Dort reports that the leader has been sent to a boys corrective home.

W. S. May Named Deputy Sheriff

Lakeside again has a deputy sheriff. Announcement of the appointmet of W. S. May was made yesterday. His telephone number is 974-3. Mr. May is well known here as a resident of Lakeside Farms and Local people will be glad of his appointment as the area once more receives police protection.

PTA CONGRESS TO MEET AT CORONADO

"Facts, Foods, Finances" is the title of a symposium announced as part of the program of the Ninth District California Congress of Parents and Teachers to be held at Coronado High School Monday, April 22. Mrs. Orno E. Tyler, president, invites local people to attend. The session will open at 10 a.m.

Flower Show Will Be Held Thursday At Woman's Club

This is blossom time in Lakeside and gardeners are preparing their choicest blooms to display at the Woman's club Amateur Flower show to be held in the clubhouse Thursday, April 25. All entries must be in by 11 a. m. that day. Doors will be open to the public at 2 p.m.

There are ten classes open for competition and three specials. The latter include wild flower display by Lakeside Union School and individual wild flower exhibits by schoolchildren; also exhibits by 4-H Girls Club, Lindo Park and Edgemoor Farm. Admission 10c.

NEPHEW OF LOCAL PEOPLE DROWNED

Alvin DeWitt Sachs, 18, State College student who was drowned Saturday at Sunset Cliffs, was a nephew of Deputy Sheriff and Mrs. W. S. May of Lakeside Farms. A huge wave washed him off the rocks and swept him out to sea. He entered State College last fall.

This Week in Washington

Washington, (Autocaster) April 15:—The two phases of greatest political interest in Washington at this stage of the Presidential campaign might be called the "Draft Roosevelt" movement and the "Stop Dewey" movement.

The politicians of both parties are divided, in each case. The Draft Roosevelt movement is focused entirely in Washington and is being conducted by Administration officials, most of whom stand to lose their jobs if any Democrat except Mr. Roosevelt, or any Republican at all, becomes the tenant of the White House next January.

LED BY EX-REPUBLICAN

It is led by the Secretary of the Interior, Mr. Harold Ickes, Who was a Republican until President Roosevelt made him a member of his Cabinet. This movement has been going on for months, and shrewd observers here think they see signs that it is waning.

The best opinion among Washington soothsayers today is that Mr. Farley and Mr. Garner have succeeded in demonstrating to the Presidents satisfaction that it would be ruinous to his Party for him to run for a third term.

The same prophets are predicting that Mr. Roosevelt's influence will be thrown to Secretary of State Hull for the Presidency and Attorney-General Robert H. Jackson for second place on the ticket. Such a ticket would go far to avert a serious split in the party, since both Mr. Hull and Mr. Jackson are well liked and respected by almost all factions of Democrats.

Fine Musical Program Arranged for Open Meeting of Lakeside Grange Wednesday

Lakeside Grange 684 will hold an open meeting April 24 at the civic center (old school house) starting at 6:30 p.m. with a potluck supper. E. H. Carender, district school superintendent, has arranged a fine musical program. The public is invited. "Please bring a covered dish and your service," says the announcement.

The next regular closed business meeting of Lakeside Grange will be on May 1 at 7:30 p.m. Meeting nights have been changed to the first and third Wednesdays of the month

C. R. Bledsoe, master of Lakeside Grange, presented a gold cup from the Grange to the winning team of Escondido in the poultry judging at Fanita Ranch where the first annual field day was held April 13.

The Lakeside Chorus of the Grange will meet every other Sunday at Mrs. D. Carender's residence at 7:30. The next meeting will be on April 28.

Mrs. Edna Mulkern was a welcome visitor last week in Lakeside. Mrs. Irene Piercy acted as her introducer and they were successful in raising a nice sum for the Grange Home Economics Club. The money, $14.70, was secured from subscriptions to the Farm Journal, Farmers Wife Magazine. Mrs. Piercy says "we are indebted to her for this fine help.

Camera Club to Hold First Show Tonight

Lakeside Camera Club will hold its first salon exhibition tonight, Friday, at the Lakeside Woman's Clubhouse at 8 o'clock. The members are taking pictures of dogs. The prints are to be mounted and should be brought to the Farmer office today. Judges of the photographs will be Mrs. John Angel, Charles Andrew, and Arthur Graham, Lakeside photographer and teacher. Following the display there will be a box social. Members are asked to come and bring a friend who is interested in photography.

DEWEY'S WIN SURPRISES

District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey of New York gave the leaders of his Party the surprise of their lives by his success in Wisconsin primary elections of delegates to the Republican National Convention.

Everybody in Washington almost was certain that Senator Vandenberg would get at least two-thirds of the Wisconsin voters. But Mr. Dewey got the whole twenty-four. This clean sweep was the most convincing demonstration Washiton has had yet of young Mr. Dewey's popularity with the voters of his own party. Added to his other primary victories, it has given his party leaders something to think about seriously.

State College Honor Won by Edward Sly

Edward Sly, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Sly of Lakeside, won the physics award at State College, San Diego, he having the highest grades of any physics student for the past three semesters. He was presented with a zipper note book of leather, with his name on it. His name was also placed on the permanent plaque at the college.

PICNIC AT EL MONTE

Members of Red Cross First Aid units of San Diego county will hold a picnic in El Monte Park near Lakeside, July 21, chairman R. Gallucci announces.

BEAUTIFUL PLANTS ADORN POSTOFFICE

Lakeside postoffice is a more useful than handsome place but beauty dwelt there this week in the shape of gorgeous flowering plants. They came from the collection of Mrs. Helm, wife of Postmaster Thomas Helm.

One rejoices in the name of Gasteria. Two sprays shot up from the plant and they bore little pink and apple green bells. But what caught the eye even more was an Amaryllis hybrid with four red lilies on one stalk; "a most beautiful thing," said one postoffice patron.

High School Bonds Fail Again; Apathy Of Voters Shown by Small District Poll

The proposed $150,000 bond issue for Grossmont High School failed last Thursday, for the second time, to get the necessary two-thirds majority More voters favored the bonds than opposed it but not enough The figures were: For the bonds 1350, against 1280.

Apathy of the voters on the proposition was again evident. The total vote cast was 2630 or only 24 percent of the district's more than 11,000 registered voters, said Carl B. Quicksall, high school principal.

Lakeside's vote was 161 for, 105 against.

One reason for the defeat seems to have been the opposition in La Mesa. There the vote was 472 for, 506 against. Santee voted 91 for, 54 against Alpine 75 for, 84 against. El Cajon 350 for, 328 against. Lemon Grove 134 for, 113 against. Jamul 19 for, 50 against. Dalzura 22 for, 25 against. Dehasa 12 for 12 against. Barrett yes 15, no 3.

National Hospital Day Exhibition to Feature Medical Science Progress

Many from this section will doubtless be included among the thousands who, on National Hospital Day, May 12, will attend the Medical Science Progress Exhibition to be held at Paradise Valley Sanitarium. Last year's observance of the day there was attended by 10,000 persons.

May 12 is known as National Hospital Day in honor of the birthday of the famous nurse, Florence Nightingale, "the Lady With the Lamp." She made so many important contributions to the development of nursing and the improvement of hospital standards that the anniversary of her birth has been set aside by presidential proclamation so that homage may be paid to her memory.

Joining hundreds of other hospitals that will observe the day officials of Paradise Valley Sanitarium have prepared an elaborate program.

NORWEGIAN NATIONAL HYMN

(Last verse of the Fatherland Song)

Yes, we love this land together,
Where the wild sea foams,
Furrowed, beat by wind and weather,
With the thousand homes.
As our fathers' battles freed us
Out of old distress,
We'll to war, if once she need us,
For her peace no less.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY AGRICULTURE

If it be true that the dead can return from the land of the shades it maybe that these fragrant nights and sunny days attract gallant Gaspar de Portola and the intrepid Captain Juan Bautisa Anza to revisit this county of San Diego with which their names are so inseperably and gloriously connected. Would not they marvel at the change that has come over the land since they made their famous marches. Captivating to them would be a night view of the beautiful City of San Diego and wonderful indeed would they find an airplane view of the fertile inland valleys which in their days were little more than deserts.

Many of us who live in this county really have only a faint conception of all that is contained in the 4,125 square miles that comprise San Diego County. Personally one learned a lot this week because someone was kind enough to send to this newspaper a copy of a booklett entitled "Agriculture of San Diego County." It's published by the San Diego-California Club and the County Board of Supervisors and, as a work of reference, it is simply invaluable.

This is no mere boosting booklet issued to attract settlers; it states "frankly the factors which the agriculturist and small farm home owner may expect to find." Facts and figures have been carefully assembled. The data presented has been obtained from County, State and Federal officials, businessmen and farmers.

Anyone who wishes to know about agricultural conditions or is interested in the attractions of San Diego County will find this booklet a "mine of information."

CHLOROFORM 'EM AT SIXTY

Down on Lakeside's Main Street the other day we got into conversation with an oldtimer And he mourned for his youth. He had realized that the days of his youth were the days of his glory and he had come to hate this business of getting old. He suggested, indeed, that all men should be painlessly put away when they arrived at the age of fifty-five. Thus he advanced by five years the declaration of the late Dr. Osler that all men ought to be chloroformed at sixty. Our Lakeside friend put forward the view that at fifty-five the old men should "sleep the sleep that knows no waking" and so make room for the younger generation which is forever treading on the heels of the old.

Sometimes, when one is pessimistic, or maybe suffering fro ma touch of indigestion, one feels inclined to agree with our friend. When one recalls "the ghost of former days" and remembers the bliss that we dreamed of in youth, we must agree with the poet who said that a life,

With large results so little rife,
Though bearable, seems hardly worth
This pomp of worlds, this pain of birth.

However, we old guys who still cling to life, will wait awhile before saying, Please pass the chloroform.

The people who never make mistakes must lead a mighty monotonous existence, says the Sage of Wildcat Canyon.

Of all earthly music that which reaches farthest into heaven is the beating of a truly loving heart.—Henry Ward Beecher.

THE DAYS OF SPRING

The days of Spring are here! the eglantine,
The rose, the tulip from the dust have risen—
And thou, why liest thou beneath the dust?
Like the full clouds of Spring, these eyes of mine
Shall scatter tears upon the grave thy prison,
Till thou too from the earth thine head shall thrust.

WOMAN'S CLUB FLOWER SHOW

One of the events of the year to which many people in this section look forward is the Spring Flower Show of the Lakeside Woman's Club. It will be held next Thursday, April 25. The committee in charge hopes that it will be one of the best in the history of the club. Valuable hints for the benefit of intending exhibitors have been give from time to time in this newspaper by Mrs. W. W. Wheatly in her Country Garden column.

Those lovely flowers that many are carefully tending now so that they may shine in all their fragrant beauty at the show—do they not, in some respects, remind you of your own life? Fond parents bring you up, a fair blossom. They, with the help of the State, develop your mind in the soil of education; the full flower is exhibited in the world"s show and then, as evening draws near, the leaves of life keep falling one by one and soon comes the Master of the Show and closes the door. The show is over. And there arises the great question, Will Spring come again for you; is there immortality? We know with Omar Khayyam, that in a little while there will be "no more of Thee and Me" but we hate to agree with him that:

O threats of Hell and hopes of Paradise!
One thing at least is certain—This Life flies;
One thing is certain and the rest is Lies—
The Flower that once has blown for ever dies:

SHE CARRIED A BUNCH OF BANANAS

This is flower show month in San Diego County. Displays are being staged by Coronado, Rancho Santa Fe, Lakeside and by Nature. Everywhere one sees beautiful women carrying bouquets of beautiful flowers. But wouldn't it be strange to see a lady carrying a bunch of bananas instead of flowers along Main Street?

Those words, "she carried a bunch of bananas," caught one's eye while reading about Java, on the Home Forum page of the Christian Science Monitor. (That page often takes you on delightful trips far from home.) Bananas are a common article of food here. We see 'em almost daily the year around hanging head down in the Main street food stores. But the Lady of the House doesn't bring them home in her hand, as if they were bouquets—she conveys them in a brown paper bag with the other "groceries."

This particular bunch, however, was carried in the slim brown hand of a beautiful brown lady in a tropical isle far across the blue sea. Let's describe her for you through the eyes of H. W. Ponder, Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society. He writes about her in "Java Pageant" (Lippincott: Philadelphia) and his words bring up as colorful a scene as that made by the flower garden outside our window. He says:

"Coming towards me, erect and dignified, is a Javanese lady of complexion no darker than an Italian, with a mass of glossy hair swept smoothly back into a great knot low on her neck. Her coat of flowered muslin is draped about with a Batik scarf, which tones harmoniously with her sarong of blue and a soft shade of brown, which in turn matches her slender bare ankles. Her sunshade is a kaleidoscopic medley of colors which has the happy knack of 'going' with anything and everything, and in her free hand she carries a bunch of golden bananas."

Think of that combination—a beautiful brown lady carrying a gay parasol and a bunch of golden bananas. When does the next ship sail for Java.

MORE LIGHT FOR LA JOLLA

La Jolla gets more Light. The newspaper of that name starts its 19th year by changing from tabloid to 7-column size and adding more features. The Light first saw the light in a little shack just 18 years ago. And now "how far that fine Light throws its beams!" May it long continue to shine.

Saw a fly on the wire window screen the other day. Beside it was a spider. Suddenly the spider leaped on the fly. "Just taking you under my protection," said the spider to the fly.

Every man feels instinctively that all the beautiful sentiments in the world weigh less than a single lovely action.—James Russell Lowell.

GARDEN SHADE

Along with the first warm days of spring we begin to ponder the desirability of some shade somewhere in the garden. A place from which to enjoy the play of sunlight and shadow among the flowers and upon the ground or lawn. A place to rest from our labors ,to ease our back from bending over the ever-present weeds, we decide would be very nice, indeed.

A canopy covered garden swing comes to mind immediately as the quickest way to acquire a shady retreat. But a California sun beating down on the unprotected highly colored top of such a device is apt to be deceptive. It may look cool and inviting from the full sunshine, but one soon begins to feel the heat bearing down upon one's head from the canopy. And yet there is something very restful appearing about the long swing. It invites us not only to sit, but to recline, if we will, beneath its sheltering canopy. If any kind of shade can be provided, no matter how light, the enjoyment of the garden swing will be multiplied many times.

A swing placed beneath a light foliaged tree ,or vine covered pergola is perhaps the choicest of garden loafing places. The colored awning fabric brings a bright spot to the landscape, while its gently swaying seat invites us to rest

The next most easily acquired garden shade is the large umbrella. A group of straight chairs and an accompanying table make a delightful place to eat outside, or to play a game during the hours when it is too warm to work out in the open. One's sewing or mending can be done here. also, amid the flowers and charmed by the song of the birds, the time will pass very quickly.

The most quickly attained of permanent shady retreats in the garden is a vine covered pergola. Such a structure built along one boundry of the garden gives a pleasant terminus to the garden vista. Pending the time when the vine which will be its "crowning glory" is large enough to provide the much desired shade, the roof of the pergola can be covered with palm fronds, an inexpensive split-bamboo porch shade, or rather closely laid lath.

The pergola is having an evolution now into the popular cabana. That shelter originated in fashionable beach colonies, but was quickly adapted to garden use as well. If one has a pergola aiready it is a simple matter to convert it into a cabana, merely cover the roof and sides.. For the sides nothing could be more appropriate than the above mentioned split bamboo porch shades. These are easily rolled up for control of ventilation and shade. When the rainy days come they are easily stored in some dry place, and are then ready for use another year.

Of course the very grandest shade possible for a garden is a tree with wide spreading branches under which to sit. A tree will be delightful the whole year through if we plant a deciduous one. It isn't too late yet to plant a tree provided you get one from the nursery either balled or in a container. A few of the different kinds may provide inspiration to plant at least one in your garden now.

WEEPING TREES are always welcome points of interest in the landscape, and the unusual "Cutleaf Weeping Birch," Betula Alba Laciniata, being considerably smaller than the willow and with its striking white trunk will be a beautiful feature of any planting. The weeping Mulberry, Morus Pendula, was mentioned in this column last year, but deserves a few words again. This is one tree which we purchase all ready to sit under. It comes to us "headed" 8 feet high, with its graceful pendulant branches reaching the ground. It may be left to grow naturally as small umbrella or the branches may be supported on a frame work of such size as you desire your shady retreat to have, and it will grow out on this support and then curtain the edges with its branches.

AUTUMN COLOR is so desirable here, and we can have more highly colored autumns if we will plant either of the following trees: Chinese Flame tree, Koelreuteria bipinnata; or the Sweet Gum, Liquidambar styraciflua. Both are perfectly hardy anywhere, both large trees.

FLOWERING TREES are nature's crowning achievement. We should have more of these. We have splendid specimens of the Western Catalpa here and the white flowering Locust, the small flowering fruit trees are a bit less known, but deserving of room in our gardens. These flowering fruit trees are treated as ordinary deciduous fruit trees Only the flowering crab apple sets fruit, the others being purely ornamental.

Doctor Townsend Says.....

AMONG our rights as human beings, that to vote was the hardest to obtain and may be the easiest to lose. It can be destroyed by indifference, or apathy. Yet that little ballot —a thin slip of a paper—is all that stands between you and tyranny. But back of it is the blood of every patriot and the tears of every slave. Too precious a weapon to be cast aside lightly, I urge every one to vote at this election, which might easily become the last.

LATEST FAD OF COLLEGIANS

Young people around here will soon be indulging in the latest "collegian fad." What is it? Writing from New York in Behind the Scenes in American Business Columnist John Craddock says:

When sales of those miniature auto license plates used on key chains spurted last month from 65,000 to 135,000 the manufacturer was pleased, but puzzled. Now the secret is out—collegians have abandoned their goldfish-eating fad and are now making a hobby of wearing the tiny replicas in many ways. Miss Donna Lewis appeared on the University of Southern California campus one day wearing a necklace and bracelet of these tabs bearing the car-license numbers of her boy friends. The fad caught on in a hurry, and the plates began appearing as hat ornaments, shoe buckles, lapel clips and even as "handles" on hookless fasteners on sports wear. Now it has leaped cross-country to campuses of West Virginia, Rochester, Miami and Stephens college in Missouri. New York designers are planning lines of merchandise featuring the little plates.

CELEBRATES 80th BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Ray H. Hoghland and Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Hazelwood of Young, Arizona, Mr. and Mrs O. V. Thielman of Chicago and Ed W. Olson of San Diego were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lamond of Barona Grade helping Mr. Lamond celebrate his 80th birthday this last week. Mrs. Hoghland will be best remembered as Beth Lamond, one time officer in the Lakeside Woman's club, after several years as head nurse in an Indian hospital in New Mexico, she and her husband acquired a general store in Young, Pleasant Valley, Ariz.

Mrs. Thielman is a sister of Mrs. Lamond, they are occupying the Lamond home in San Diego, they like it so well in California they will probably become permanent residents

Mr. Lamond, who for many years was Secretary, Auditor and Director of the San Diego and Cuyamaca Railway, until it was absorbed by the San Diego and Arizona in 1912, is best known by the oldtimers. He is getting younger with each birthday and still retains the habits and hobbies of his earlier life, especially a Postage Stamp collection started in 1875 and which is constantly being added to. He is a cousin of the late Ramsey MacDonald, premier of England.

Mainly About People

By Lorena Sands

Lakeside, California,
April 19, 1940

Dear Elenaor:

Susan arrived Saturday night at the Quintard hospital. Her proud parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Rocchio. And reports are that Pat (the infants mommie) and the new member of the family are doing splendidly. Swell, eh what?

James and Marybeth Kalstrom were in Lakeside last Sunday. They plan to leave San Diego and return to Truckee some time this week.

At Mrs. Lydicia Fellows ranch Mr. and Mrs. Mack Brinley of Beverly Hills and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Brinley of Los Angeles are spending a few days.

On Monday Beverly Hartley spent the day in San Diego acquiring a new spring wardrobe. What no school? Tish, Tish.

A perfectly grand time is always had by Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Lake when they visit in Los Angeles. This last week end they also spent some time in Glendale.

A visit to our local church was paid by Dr. G. W. Moore on Sunday. He was also luncheon guest at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Thomas Nalbach Dr. Moore is the executive secretary of the Los Angeles Presbytary. The same day Mr. and Mrs. Jack Williams of San Diego drove to Lakeside and from there Mrs. Williams went to Los Angeles with Mrs. Doris Bowden.

A trip to the beach was lots of fun on Sunday for Freida Clevenger and Velma Duncan. They met friends in San Diego and went on to the sea side from there.

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peck of Ocean Beach were dinner guests at the Roy Clymer ranch. Leta and Con Madison entertained Jim Brown of San Diego over the weekend. He was called back to his home on Sunday because of a serious accident to his mother.

One evening last week, Captain and Mrs. Josiah Grundy were dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Jones at Foster.

The ladies of the Sheltering Hills Club were entertained on Friday by Mrs. Eberhardt of Fernbrook. More news from that vicinity has it that Mr. and Mrs. Ben Balderson of Alpine have moved to the cottage recently vacated by Mr. I. H. Scott at Foster.

Mr. and Mrs. Olie Rinde of the Rodeo Association were in Lakeside the first of the week on business and also calling on their friends. The new car they were driving was in honor of their thirteenth wedding anniversary.

Reno was the destination of Mrs. L. H. Smith last week end. Says she's been the cause of a good many jokes, but the trip was to check some mine interests of her sister's who is visiting her this week.

What do you think? We (Noel, Sandy and I) are heading for the desert. We have taken over the Westmoreland newspaper and are leaving Lakeside this weekend. But worry not dear Eleanor you will learn all the local news through the efforts of Noel's sister Winnifred and niece Dorothy Turner. Some surprise! It almost is to us too, we decided in such a rush, but we think that's fun.

Best to you and your family.
Affectionately,
Lorena

FIVE FLAT

O say, what can you see by the dawn's early light? The Oceanside News answers that question by reporting that dawn's early light revealed on a lawn in front of a beach home, a wrecked car with all four tires flat. The driver was also flat. The police found him lying on his back asleep.

EL CAPITAN FARM FOR PATROL CAMP

San Diego's abandoned El Capitan prison farm may be used for a junior traffic patrol summer camp.

The buildings are clustered beneath the dam and around an ideal swimming hole, and Fred Rhodes, city manager, has approved their use by the junior patrol provided the police department, under which the patrol works, can make necessary arrangements.

Need for such a camp for the school crossing guards long has been a pressing one. As tentatively proposed groups of youngsters would be taken to the camp for periods of from one to two weeks.

Suggestion to convert the buildings into a camp was made Friday when Rhodes and a large group of city officials toured part of the water impounding system and visited El Capitan dam.—San Diego Union.

Range Forage Meet Planned for Alpine

To explain the range forage work of the Agricultural Extension Service a meeting will be held May 8, starting at 10 a.m., on the Neil Galloway ranch, Alpine. A similar meeting will be held May 10 on the Geo. Sawday ranch, Witch Creek.

Range grass or forage is the back bone of the whole livestock industry, according to F. W. Dorman, Assistant Farm Advisor. The cheapest and often the best stock feed is that which grows on range land without irrigation or harvesting costs, Dorman said

Due to the increased cost of production and to public opinion advocating conservation measures, the cattleman is striving to protect his land and at the same time get the highes possible returns from it.

Range management, including deferred grazing and reseeding are vital problems, states Dorman. To attack these problems the Agricultural Extension Service established four nurseries in 1937 to test the adaptibility of different grasses and legumes to different San Diego County conditions. This work has been expanded to include over 100 varieties of grasses and clovers and to nine different locations in the county.

RECREATION NEWS

Amateur dancers,, imitators, monologists, singers and soloists will have a chance to perform before a sympathetic audience Friday night, April 26, at the civic center. Part of the usual weekly social dance will be converted into an amateur hour. Everyone is invited to come and see the show.

Betty Wetzel defeated Frances Silvis to win the championship round of the Jack Tournament which started with 34 entries several weeks ago.

Badminton is getting a good play at the old grammar school on Saturdays. Craft classes have started in wood-work, crepe paper, cork and model airplane building. Other activities wil be added when the facilities are available.

There will be a childrens dance at the civic center this Friday night. April 19. Last week was a Tacky Dance. Paul Jones was added to the routine of dances which the children have learned to date. Come and join in on the fun.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "Doctrine of Atonement" on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist. The Golden Text is from Matthew: "The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many."

A Bible citation includes these verses from Psalms: "O Lord, open thou my lips; and my mouth shall shew forth thy praise. For thou desirest not sacrifice; else would I give it: thou delightest not in burnt offering." These verses about Jesus from Mark are also presented: "And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And Jesus, moved with compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will; be thou clean. And as soon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosy departed from him, and he was cleansed."

One of the selections from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, states: "Jesus taught the way of Life by demonstration, that we may understand how this divine Principle heals the sick, casts out error, and triumphs over death. Jesus presented the ideal of God better than could any man whose origin was less spiritual. By his obedience to God, he demonstrated more spiritually than all others the Principle of being."

No wind makes for him that hath no intended port to sail into.—Montaigne.

TOWNSEND CLUB SEES FINE ENTERTAINMENT

VicePresident A. L. Rose, reports that the session of Lakeside Townsend Club at the civic center Tuesday night was a grand success. Supper was followed by attractive entertainment by the Meglen, Fanchon Marco artists and the evening ended with dancing. Music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Webber, Mr. Miller, Wm. Nelson, Albert Smith and Mrs. Ada Stone. The affair was enjoyed by 120 persons.

Next Tuesday, April 30, will be speakers night. Paul Sullivan will be the chief speaker. Refreshments will be served including strawberry shortcake by the Ladies Auxiliary; public cordially invited.

CO-ORDINATING GROUP MEETS APRIL 27

The second annual conference Co-ordinating Councils of San Diego County will be held Saturday, April 27, in the House of Hospitality, Balboa Park. The theme will be Community Co-operation. Kenneth S. Beam, executive sec. Co-ordinating Councils, Inc., will speak at 10 a.m. The famous picture, Boys Town, will be shown. Luncheon will be served at noon. Reservations shsould be made for it. The conference will be open to the public. Director Wayne A. Neal will preside.

BOTANY CLASS STUDENTS ON LONG TRIP

Lovely co-eds and fine looking youths from the University of Washington, comprising the botany class under the direction of Prof. C. Leo Hitchcock, descended quietly and unannounced upon staid Julian on Tuesday, April 9. This mountain town was stirred to sudden activity in furnishing supplies to a motorcade of eleven cars. Their visit was made in the course of a remarkable tour. To the students it was the regular spring field trip in botany and it was certainly a wonderful one, as the Julian News correspondent learned. He interviewed Miss Lavonne Brockman of Seattle and Mr. Ed Lachlin of Yakima and from them obtained the following facts:

STUDY FLORA OF COAST AND DESERT

The Spring field trip in botany is a regular course for full credits; it covered this year the flora of the coastal region and the desert.

The group, composed of Prof Hitchcock and 40 students, sex about equally divided, left Seattle, Wash., on March 21 and had covered in Southern California, Mojave and Imperial Valley besides the coast territory. From Julian they were routed via Warner's to San Bernardino, via Cajon Pass to Barstow, thence to Death Valley and Nevada. They expect to return to Seattle June 5, thus making an 11-weeks camping trip. Besides Miss Brockman and Mr. Lachlin the following students registered at the Julian News office:

Irene Mannion, Aberdeen, Wash., Jane Talbot, Ketichican Alaska; Judy Richardson, Seattle; Johnny Cherednik, Seattle; Rush Stephens, Portland, Ore., Harry Nelson (star basketball player U. W.) Paul Macy, Port Angeles. Wn. Alice Winger, the university's roving reporter, Seattle; Jeannette Stewart, purchasing agent Juneau, Alaska; Caroline Bullard, Tacoma; Margaret Dyar, Spokane; Dorothy Marrow, Seattle; Jack Newland, Metaline Falls, Wn. They all expressed pleasure with the natural beauty of Julian district and for service received.

Bryan Sweet Enters Supervisor Race

Byran A. Sweet, Escondido rancher, today announced his intention to run for the office of supervisor from the fifth district, an office he formerly held. He stresses the fact that he has the necessary experience as farmer, businessman, as well as supervisor, to qualify him for the position.

"I make no promises," he said. "Too many politicans are making too many promises for them all to be truthful. No doubt I made mistakes when I was in office before. I will probably make some more if elected again.

"But there is one thing in my favor," Sweet continued. "I'm no longer a greenhorn. I know what it's all about. The county needs better administration."

Sweet went on to say that county problems can be improved. "What we need is not a heavier burden on the taxpayer but a more intelligent use of the money already available." He thinks the back country "needs representation on the board of supervisors."

WILLIAM J. ALLESINA, WAR VETERAN, DIES

William J. Allesina of Lakeside, World War veteran, passed away at Naval Hospital, San Diego, April 15. He had lived in California 25 years. Funeral services were held in San Diego yesterday under auspices of El Cajon Valley Masonic lodge. Surviving him are his wife, Myra L. FITTED SLIP

Have you had difficulty buying slips that fit as smoothly and slimly as they should, under your figure-molding dresses? So many large women have, and therefore we designed this slip (8423).

We put darts under the arms to take care of bust fulness and to prevent bulkiness, and darts at the waistline to make you look slimmer, and your dresses melt in without a line or wrinkle.

Pattern provides for both built-up shoulders and straps.

Once you see how beautifully this slip fits, you'll want three or four like it, in satin or lingerie crepe.

Pattern No. 8423 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, 50 and 52.

Pattern 8660—Little girls who hate to take time out for getting dressed and undressed will be made very happy by this design (8660) which buttons, on a slanting line, like a coat and has sash belts tied in the back.

They can put it on and take it off in a jiffy—nothing tight or fussy about it, and it's just as cute as it can be. Pattern gives you a choice of very short kimono sleeves or set-in puffed ones.

This is an easy dress to make and to iron, and, simple though the pattern is, a detailed sew chart is included. Make the frock and panties of sturdy cottons like gingham, linen or percale, and trim with ricrac.

Pattern No. 8660 is designed for sizes 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12 years.
